Employer Webinar Series

▶ Electronic Distribution of SPDs and other Participant Communications

Tuesday, Aug 11, 2009 - 2 p.m. ET / 11 a.m. PT

As email, instant messaging, and Twitter become the norm, and with “green” being the color of the day, benefit plan sponsors and administrators are naturally interested in meeting their participant communication obligations via electronic means. Unfortunately, the applicable statutes and regulations have not kept up with reality. In fact, for many participants and beneficiaries, it is still easier to send pieces of paper than to jump through the hoops needed to allow for electronic dissemination of SPDs, forms and notices.

We’ll address the current IRS and Department of Labor guidance in this area, with practical suggestions on how to minimize the amount of paper used in plan administration.
